

On the world

out of control

to have true peace in this world
one's desires must be under control - however the people who run this world -
their desires are totally out of control!
yes, totally out of control!

masterpieces

we really need a masterpiece - but
not one that you can
hang on the wall.
i mean we need
a master peace
one that belongs to us all.

holiness

holiness has no time or place
to glorify the human race
it prefers to hide its face from man's unholy vile disgrace - there is no god to glorify no singing angels up on high in heaven, and so that is why i tread this world at my own pace.

Fuckinating!

our world is fuckinating!
there's fuckin' war
and fuckin' drought
and fuckin' flood
and fuckin' famine.
there's fuckin' crime
and fuckin' assassins
and fuckin' pedos
and fuckin' fuckwits!
what the fuckin' hell !!!
i told you so,
the world is fuckinating!

Given a chance

What chance do we really have?
When we take a chance
It's our choice
But whether we win or lose
Succeed or fail
Is never certain.
We cannot see behind the curtain
Of the future -
The odds are even,
Are balanced on a knife's edge -
Once committed
The future is decided.
By a random twist of fate,
Neither just or undeserved,
Fair or unfair -
We simply take what's given
And accept what's on our plate.

believe me

For pages and pages
The great pseudo sages
Have written religions
Believed through the ages
But belief has imprisoned
Our minds with decisions
To wage war with our neighbours
Or trade arms for favours.
Brainwashed -
at what cost?

No stopping war haiku

A cat without claws
Is the United Nations
It only meows

Let's get Together

Do any of you know
Who you are?
If you're near at hand or Somewhere there or far?
Thinks -
All of us know this moment
Whether awake or asleep,
Conscious or unconscious,
On the surface or dug down deep.
'Cause our common sense of time
Is the power that binds us all

Together.
Together we are one -
We are one together

no guns
what about
the religion of one commandment?
thou shalt not
pick up a gun.
